Boneyard BBQ

Figure 1

Our poor victim has been skewered and prepped for his last meal.

Figure 2

the extruded foam "nut" keeps the bar from wandering back and forth as the handle is turned. Note the U-bracket and bar flange.

Figure 3

The handle is a length of all-thread rod secured to a length of wood with 9/16" nuts. A length of 1/2" PVC pipe is slipped over the all-thread.

Figure 4

The skewer is from an old plastic pitch fork, it really makes the prop look mean!

Figure 5

Final paint and assembly

Figure 6

Anyone hungry? He tastes just like chicken! I still have to build the faux flame unit. Check back soon for the photos.
