This photo is just to give you an idea of how tall the fence sections were. We opted to go for 5 foot high fence.

The next four photos are of completed sections.

Here is the completed fence at night. We had some problems getting it set up right because the ground was uneven and were running out of time. So we just rigged it up to work. Still it had to be sturdy cause with kids leaning on it we were afraid it might collapse. We loved working with the blue flood lights!

We were not sure where we wanted to put the fence this year (2007) The front sidewalk there had a line waiting to get in so this was a good place for the cemetery as people who stood in line could view it easily. We also had the Haunted Hootenany cd playing outside which gave us some haunted redneck music!

Its true what everyone says on the Halloween board that you can really get away with a lot at night. Our fence really had some problems but at night it just looked more authentic because it was crooked.
