How About a Little Snack

In this scare you simply position an old refrigerator in an otherwise empty room. Leave the door slightly open (do this by tilting the refrigerator back slightly so the door closes itself, but install a doorstop inside that keeps door open about 1"). Have a light on inside the refrigerator with no other lights on in the room other than a single 48" UV tube to illuminate a white sign that reads, "Open for your treat". Inside the refrigerator have a few cobwebs, the bones of a rack of ribs on an old dirty plate, and a dead rat lying next to the ribs. Have a character dressed in all black lurking in the shadows to step out and grab the shoulder of whomever opens the door, while shouting, "Hey, git outa there mortal."
