Removing the faces from his victims, drying the flesh in the woods and sewing it together to make a horrifying death mask...it's FLESHFACE! HauntedHotSauce.com's version is easy to make, easy to wear and surprisingly scary when it's all done. By the way, each bottle of FLESHFEAST, FLESHFEAST 2 and FLESHFEAST 3 Hot Sauce comes with one of these masks on top.

Step 1: Print your mask.

Use some brown craft paper, mailing paper or even the inside of a brown paper grocery bag. Cut it to 8 1/2" x 11". Smooth it out a bit, insert it into your printer and print the mask.

Step 2: Cut it out.

Cut out the mask around the dark outside line. Be careful not to cut off a finger (unless you're into that sort of thing)

Step 3: Cut out the mouth and eyes.

Using a sharp blade such as an X-Acto knife, carefully cut out the mouth hole and the eye holes. Some people like to leave the mouth there...it's up to you, after all, it's YOUR Fleshface!

Step 4: Wad it up into a little ball.

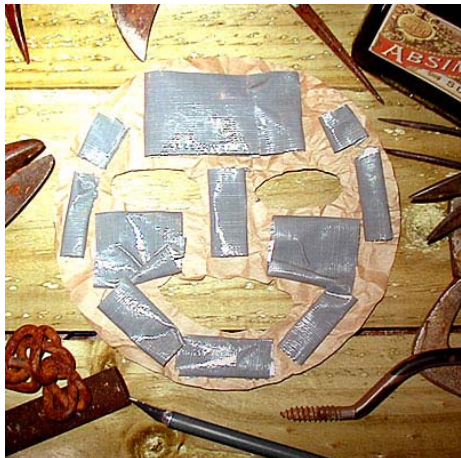

You heard me...wad it up into a little ball! When it's smoothed out, it'll have the maximum "wrinkled flesh" effect that we all look for in a Fleshface mask. I'm not sure why I felt the need to show you a picture of a wadded up mask...but if you want to, you can click on it to see it even bigger!

Step 5: Smooth it out.

Very carefully unfold the mask (because the eye and mouth holes tend to rip). See...it looks just like dried, wrinkled flesh!

Step 6: Flip it over and apply duct tape.

Flip the mask over and apply rolled over, sticky side out, duct tape as shown. Be careful...duct tape is VERY sticky and can stick painfully to your face. If you don't feel comfortable sticking this mask to your face with duct tape...DON'T DO IT! Another option might be to use a rubber band or string to attach your mask.

Step 7: Wear your mask and run amok!

Stick the mask to your face. If you like, you can apply a little dark makeup around your eyes and dirty up your teeth. Here I am with a little bit of purple eye makeup, zombie contact lenses and the "Gnash" teeth from screamteam.com. You have to admit, this mask is surprisingly creepy for being made of paper, especially in dim light! Add some bloody clothes, a bloody apron and a chainsaw prop to complete the effect.
