The best home Halloween props are those that are unique (homemade from scratch or a modified purchased one). Bonus points for recycling some junk that you might have thrown out in the trash. Double bonus points for making a prop that is cheap, but doesn't look cheap! Some folks just don't get this concept. There are some truly awful looking homemade props out there. Throwing a white sheet over a bush and making a face on it with a magic marker is just ...embarrassing. You can do better!
