The Giant Spider's Web, Victims...

El Cheapo Big Lots skeleton made the most visible victim.

I used fishing line to tie him into an uncomfortable position.

The less visible victims were trash bag, Wal-Mart bag and 2 liter bottle constructions.

They were painted and wrapped in white gauze-y septic paper, available inexpensively in large amounts at Home Depot.

The web was hand laid out, tied across the yard to make it easier on my back and then completely hand tied starting at the outside and working inward. Believe me when I say I was tired of tying little knots by then.

Looks like the spider victims drink a LOT of Diet Pepsi.

Victims in place.

The end-of-driveway web and most visible victim.

Dessication vacation.
